

one grey line per real network, complete networks (no sampling)